DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

 The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the following must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

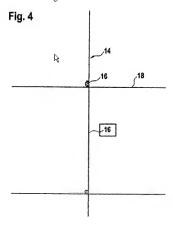

- a. Obliquely arranged antenna components
- Obliquely arranged antenna components in combination with web direction components
- Obliquely arranged antenna components in combination with transverse direction components
- d. Obliquely arranged antenna components in combination with web direction and transverse direction components
- e. Electrically conductive printing paste
- f. Outlet points
- g. Outlet point spacing of $\lambda/4$
- Potting compound
- Pre-cut section

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The drawings are further objected to because of the following:
 Detail 16 in Figure 4 is incorrect:

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

Page 1 line 5, and page 2 line 7, contain the text "claim 1", which is improper. During prosecution, the numbering and content of claims can change, causing confusion. Applicant should amend the specification to remove any specific claim number recitations and instead insert the text of that which he intends to teach

Proper sectional headings have been omitted

Page 9, line 26, the phrase "conductive threads 8" is incorrect

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

 Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In regards to claim 1, the phrase "may be" is confusing as it is unclear whether the details that follow the phrase are necessary.

In regards to claim 2, the phrase "singly or multiply and mutually" is confusion as it is unclear how to group the requirements.

In regards to claim 5, the phrase "can be" is confusing as it is unclear whether the details that follow the phrase are necessary.

In regards to claim 6, Applicant's use of commas creates confusion as the passage can be read numerous ways. Also, what is meant by the phrase "built-in"?

In regards to claim 7, the phrase "can be" is confusing as it is unclear whether the details that follow the phrase are necessary. Also, how can the threads conduct while separated?

In regards to claim 8, the phrase "can be" is confusing as it is unclear whether the details that follow the phrase are necessary.

In regards to claim 10, how can the threads conduct while separated?

In regards to claim 13, the claim recites the limitation "the conductive adhesive". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Art Unit: 3765

In regards to claim 16, the phrase "can be" is confusing as it is unclear whether the details that follow the phrase are necessary. Also, there is insufficient antecedent basis for the limitation "the finished goods" in the claim.

In regards to claim 17, the phrase "preferably" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation(s) following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

 The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- Claims 1-17, to the degree definite, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Van Heerden et al (20030160732).

Van Heerden teaches a textile material with antenna components connectable to a circuit module, consisting of electrically conductive thread components in the form a symmetrical dipole antenna which would inherently correspond to an RF wavelength, located in the web direction or transverse, having connection points (Abstract; Figure 2; Paragraph 24).

Double Patenting

8. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). Sec, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re

Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

9. Claims 1-9 and 12-15 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 and 6-12 of copending Application No. 10/084718. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each teaches antenna components incorporated into a web structure for RF transponding.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

- 10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Lebby et al (5906004), Strache et al (20030085619), Dhawan et al (6852395), Wilson et al (6727197), Jayaramen et al (6687523), and Cheadle et al (6377216) all teach what is well known in the art.
